“ Frye Daddy (gamertag) was a very good friend of mine on the gamy system. when his wife reached out to me about his passing i was very shocked and my stomach dropped. He is very missed by our group of friends and my daughter. For about two years he brought together several different individuals from across Northern America and formed a friendship. He grew a relationship with my toddler daughter who still asks about him and misses him dearly. He was funny, caring and was so concerning about my family. We will miss him greatly.
