May 1, 1962 - August 29, 2021

Loretha Bell Wilcoxen, 59, of Hurricane, West Virginia passed away August 29, 2021. Loretha is preceded in death by her parents, Ronald & Charlotte Milton; her brother, Rodney Milton; and her sister, Patricia Milton. The simplest pleasures in life brought great joy to Loretha: spending time with her grandchildren, talking on the phone with her close friend, Tresea Johnson and laughing and conversing with friend, Lesa Schumacher & her extended brother and friend, Casey Carson who took care of one another over the years. Besides spending time with the people she loved, Loretha was an avid gardener and loved to tend to her flowers. She was always excited when her amaryllis bloomed multiple times a year. Loretha was a child of Christ and will be greatly missed, but never forgotten. She is survived by her two daughters, Amy Jordan (husband, Todd) and Amanda Wilcoxen. Loretha was a loving and proud Maw Maw to Logan, Hailey, Ethan, Emma, John and Summer. She was also an extended grandmother to Miles & Josiah Schumacher, as well as, Abby, Ally & Taylor Corson. She is also survived by her sisters, Bonnie Milton-Martin & Sue Milton; and her brothers, Raleigh Milton & Maurice Milton.

“ I don't know where to begin. Loretha was many things to many people. She became my best friend. She was there for, and supported my kids Rachael and Ben and was proud of how far Rachael has grown in her firefighting career. She got to watch my kids grow and I will forever be thankful for having her in my life. And in my kids life. I am also thankful for her water. There were times when I had forgotten to pay the water bill. I'd go fill my jugs and she would always laugh at me. More recently, she and I talked about making a road trip to Lake Erie to go collect rocks off the beach. I miss her every day. Rest easy my friend. And go find my dad and have one more quick one. I know you're in good company.
